LIMITATIONS OF EXISTING SYSTEMS

- Most of the websites are to be paid to create an account and use.
- Most websites act as a mediator and privacy may get intervened.
- Even when there are certain websites that doesn't charge you they keep a limitation on the time where a user can make use of the website.

PROPOSED SYSTEM

The proposed system contains the given credentials :-

This information could include details about cases they have appeared in, outcomes achieved, and any noteworthy achievements. This allows users to assess the lawyer's experience and track record.

4. Contacting Lawyers: Users can freely contact lawyers of their choice through the website. This can be facilitated through a messaging system or by displaying the lawyer's contact information, such as phone number or email address, on their profile. The platform itself would not interfere with or control the communication between users and lawyers, allowing them to interact directly.
